FAQ

THE BASICS

- Is all of the artwork here for sale?
Most of the artwork on display throughout our gallery spaces is available for purchase.
- I saw “NFS” on a gallery tag—what does that mean?
“NFS” stands for “Not For Sale,” meaning the artist chose to not sell that piece of artwork.
- What does the red sticker on a tag mean?
The piece has sold and will go home with its buyer after the show ends!

CHOOSING ART

- I’ve never bought art before—what should I get?
Whatever you’re drawn to (pun intended!) Maybe it’s the color? Maybe it resonates with you? Whatever the reason, art is personal. If it catches your attention, that’s a great place to start!
- Is the art here local?
Often yes, but not always. Work displayed here can come from across the country, and is sometimes even international!

PURCHASING & PICKUP

- Can I take my art home right after I buy it?
Artwork will be ready for pick up after the show ends—that way, visitors can enjoy the show for its full duration. We’ll contact you when your piece is ready!
- Can I pay with cash?
At this time, we can only accept card payments.
- What if I see something I like but I’m not ready to buy?
No worries! Feel free to take this card and think it over. We’re happy to answer your questions any time during our open hours: Tues—Sat, 10AM—5PM.
- Can I buy art online?
While we can't facilitate art sales directly through our website, we can over the phone/in-person. We can email you an online-payable invoice!
